

Peak Area Leadership in Science

Professional Development Opportunities for Secondary Science Educators

www.sciencehubs.org

Science Hubs
2011-2012

2 Ways to RSVP

E-mail: RSVP@sciencehubs.org

Call Tammy Johnnie

(719) 598-2732 or 337-1552

Tuesday
March 6, 2012
4:00 pm to 8:00 pm

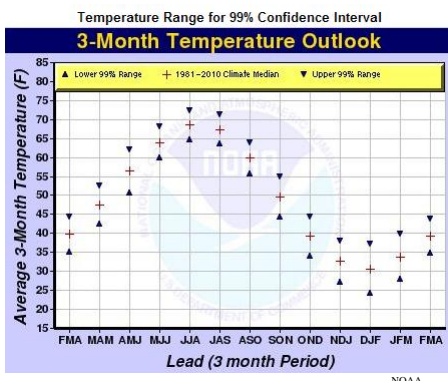

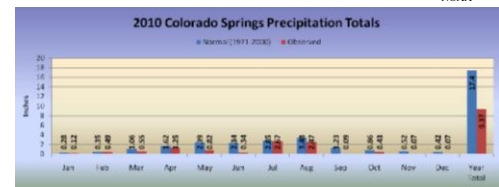

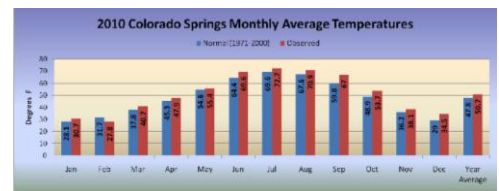

Learn more about climate: Climate change, Colorado's future, and resources for teaching

- Is the climate changing in Colorado? How would we know?
- The American Pika: A Model Species for Studying Climate Sensitivity
- Climate and Energy Topics in the Classroom
- Resources for Teaching About Climate and Energy
- Other Resources from CU

Great Prizes
Networking
Refreshments
Classroom Materials

- Classroom Climate Data Cards
- Roadmap of how to find teaching resources.
- Access to an educator support forum.
- DVD of movies on climate change in Colorado.
- Climate Literacy Principles booklet.
- Brochures, pamphlets and literature related to climate and energy education.

Meeting Presenters

- Dr. Stephanie Chasteen, K12 Outreach Coordinator for Learn More About Climate, PhD Physicist and Education Researcher, University of Colorado
- Cheryl Manning, Teacher at Evergreen HS
- Dr. Susan Buhr, Director of Education/Outreach for Cooperative Institute in Research in the Environmental Sciences (CIRES), CU-Boulder
- Dr. Anne Gold, CIRES Education and Outreach Group, CU-Boulder
- Dr. Chris Ray, Research Associate, Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, CU-Boulder.

Location

Cheyenne Mountain Junior High School
1200 W. Cheyenne Road, Colorado Springs

Details at <http://www.sciencehubs.org/meetings/March.html>
Driving Directions: <http://www.sciencehubs.org/locations/index.html>
Visit our web site at <http://www.sciencehubs.org>
Meeting Cancellations: <http://www.sciencehubs.org/weather/index.html>

In compliance with Colorado School of Mines regulations, children of participants should not attend Hub meetings or activities.

School District 11 neither endorses nor represents, in any way, the products and/or services provided.

Funding Provided by:
The Mikkelson Foundation
Providing Support for Teachers to Improve Technical Knowledge and Skills

This program has been made possible through the United States Air Force Academy and the Challenger Learning Center of Colorado with grant funding provided by the Office of the Secretary of Defense through its National Defense Education Program (NDEP).

